Reader Recommendations

Resurrection Walk*By Michael Connelly

Set primarily in the Los Angeles area, this legal and crime novel keeps your attention. It has main characters from past stories and many of the latest features of crime and crime-solving. It was great to hear more about Harry Bosch and the Lincoln Lawyer as they take on a case of a woman wrongfully imprisoned for killing her deputy husband.

The Magnolia Palace*By Fiona Davis

In 1919, former model Lillian Carter loses her mother and becomes a secretary at the Frick mansion, entangled in scandals. Fifty years later, model Veronica Weber discovers hidden messages at the Frick Collection, unveiling secrets of a decades-old murder. This will be especially interesting to readers interested in art and history. Davis is an easy-to-read author.

Judgment Prey*By John Sandford

A federal judge and his sons are murdered in St. Paul, Minnesota, shocking everyone. Detectives Davenport and Flowers investigate, facing dead ends and obstruction, to uncover the truth behind the brutal crime. It is not the best in the Prey series but entertaining, nonetheless.
